FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTIONS

Officials from the Office of State Courts Administrator, the Office of Administration, Division of Budget and Planning, and Division of Facilities Management/Design and Construction, the Department of Conservation, the Department of Public Safety, Office of the Director and State Highway Patrol, and the Department of Transportation assume the proposal would have no fiscal impact on their organizations.

Officials from the Department of Economic Development did not respond to our request for information.

Officials from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations (DOLIR) assume this proposal would require the unemployment experience of a transferred trade or business to be transferred to the acquiring employer where there is substantially common ownership, management, or control of the two employers. The proposal also provides that an individual, organization or employing unit which knowingly violates or attempts to violate this section solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a lower contribution rate would be subject to civil and monetary penalties.

ASSUMPTIONS (continued)

DOLIR assumes the dumping provisions in the proposal would increase its ability to collect employer contributions due to the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund; however, DOLIR is unable to determine the amount of the increased collections. Similarly, the agency assumes some employers would be found in violation of the proposal and subsequently assessed a monetary penalty. These penalties would be deposited in the Special Employment Security fund, but the agency is unable to estimate the amount of penalties. The economic impact on small business alone cannot be determined.

Oversight assumes the proposal would result in an unknown increase in revenue to the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund and to the Special Employment Security Fund.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

This proposal could have a direct fiscal impact to small businesses which purchase or sell part or all of a trade or business.

DESCRIPTION

This proposal would provide criteria for workplace drug testing, payment of unemployment benefits, and transfers of experience rates between common owners.

- If an employer transfers its trade or business, or a portion thereof, to another employer and, at the time of the transfer, there is substantially common ownership, management, or control of the two employers, then the unemployment experience attributable to the transferred trade or business shall be transferred to the employer to whom such business is so transferred. The rates and liabilities of both employers shall be recalculated and made effective pursuant to this section.
- If an individual, organization, or employing unit is not an employer when it acquires the trade or business of an employer, the unemployment experience of the acquired business would not be transferred to the new employer if the division finds that such employer acquired the business solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a lower rate of contributions. Instead, such individual, organization, or employing unit would be assigned the applicable new employer rate.
- If an employer knowingly violates or attempts to violate this section related to determining the assignment of a contribution rate, or knowingly advises another employer in a way that results in a violation of such provision, the individual, organization, or employing unit shall be subject to penalties including increased contribution rates or a civil money penalty of not more than five thousand dollars.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
