FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Office of State Courts Administrator state this proposal has no fiscal impact on the Courts.

Officials from the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules (JCAR) stated this proposed legislation is not anticipated to cause a fiscal impact to JCAR beyond its current appropriation.

According to officials from the Office of Secretary of State (SOS), many bills considered by the General Assembly include provisions allowing or requiring agencies to submit rules and regulations to implement the proposal. The SOS is provided with core funding to handle a certain amount of normal activity resulting from each year's legislative session. The fiscal impact for this fiscal note to the SOS for Administrative Rules is less than $2,500.

Oversight assumes the SOS could absorb the costs of printing and distributing regulations related to this proposal with core funding. If multiple bills pass which require the printing and distribution of regulations at substantial costs, the SOS could request funding through the appropriation process. Any decisions to raise fees to defray costs would likely be made in subsequent fiscal years.

Officials from the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) assume the fiscal impact for moving the due process hearings from the State Board of Education to the Administrative Hearing Commission is comparative, if not less than, what DESE currently pays for due process hearings.

Contracted due process hearings through the state board cost between $250,000 - $490,000 in any given year. This includes the hourly rate for contracted attorneys, travel, postage, freight, meeting space, office supplies, telephone charges for conference calls, printing, training, court reporters, and subscriptions.

DESE anticipates that moving the cases to the administrative hearing commission will compare or reduce this cost. It will eliminate the need for 2 non-attorney hearing panel members, reduce the hourly rate for contracted attorneys by hiring salaried staff, and reduce the number of copies that have to be made for panel members.

According to officials with the Administrative Hearing Commission (AHC), assumptions are based on figures provided about the program's expenses during the last fiscal year. The AHC is requesting the following positions: one Commissioner ($103,430), one attorney ($58,697), 0.5 paralegal ($17,754), 0.5 court reporter ($18,648), and 0.5 senior office assistant ($11,898). Salaries listed do not include the fringe benefit figure. Expenditures include equipment for computers and Westlaw expenses, and funds to hire contract court reporters since the hearings must be held at a place convenient to the parents throughout the state. The total cost of the 0.5 court reporter position and the E & E for contract court reporters does not exceed the amount spent on court reporters last year by DESE. While the law providing that the State Board of Education will be responsible for transcript costs (§162.963.4) is unchanged, AHC included those under the assumption that this would likely become the responsibility of AHC. Training expenses include initial training for five Commissioners and five attorneys, and yearly required training for five Commissioners.

Oversight assumes the cost savings to DESE will be offset by the expenses incurred by the AHC to conduct special education due process hearings and will net to zero.

Officials from the Special School District of St Louis County and the Parkway School District state this proposed legislation will have no fiscal impact on their school districts.

This proposed legislation was sent to the following school districts, none of which responded to a request for fiscal impact: Blue Springs, Branson, Columbia, Fair Grove, Francis Howell, Independence, Jefferson City, Kirksville, Lee's Summit, Mexico, Nixa, Raytown, Sedalia, Sikeston, Silex, Spickard, Springfield, St Charles, St Joseph, St Louis City, Sullivan.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

This proposed legislation transfers the administration of special education due process hearings from the State Board of Education to the Administrative Hearing Commission. The Administrative Hearing Commission cannot grant summary judgment with a special education due process hearing. The Administrative Hearing Commission must conform to all practices, procedures, filing deadlines, and response times of the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) when conducting due process hearings.

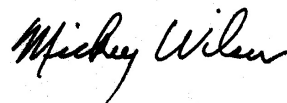

At least three of the commissioners must be trained in special education law, who will be the only commissioners to hear special education matters. The initial training must be selected by the Administrative Hearing Commission in consultation with the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education and the IDEA-funded parent training and information center, as described in the proposal. Each commissioner assigned to special education matters must complete at least five additional hours of training each year. In addition, training sessions must be recorded and posted on the Administrative Hearing Commission's website, as described in the proposal.

When a commissioner renders a final decision, it cannot be amended or modified.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
