FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials at the Office of the Secretary of State (SOS) state that currently, when a vacancy occurs in the offices of U.S. Representative, State Senator and State Representative, the Governor shall without delay issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy. §115.363.5 states that a party nominating committee may nominate a candidate for an election called to fill a vacancy. This proposal would replace this nominating process with a separate primary election prior to the special election, would require candidates to be nominated at a primary election which shall be held on a Tuesday at least forty-five days prior to the date of the special election and would essentially create an additional election, to select nominees, prior to the special election.

Pursuant to §115.063.2 the state is required to pay all costs associated with special elections. Due to the un-predictibility of when vacancies may occur and the geographical size of the vacated district, costs associated with this proposal are difficult to estimate. In previous special elections, costs have varied from $25,000 to $715,000 per election. SOS assumes, for the purposes of this fiscal note, that it should have the full appropriation authority it needs to adequately fund all special elections.

Oversight received information from SOS that there were six special elections held in FY 2010 at a cost of $584,912, two special elections held in FY 2011 at a cost of $204,728, five special elections held in FY 2012 at a cost of $7,526,430, six special elections held in FY 2013 at a cost of $1,078,244, and five special elections held in FY 2014 at a cost of $341,710. The five year average is $1,947,205.

Oversight will range the fiscal impact from $0 (no primary special election needed) or Up to the average special election estimate provided by the Office of the Secretary of State ($2,000,000).

Officials at the Lincoln County Clerk's Office assume a cost of approximately $65,000 per election.

Officials at the St. Louis County Board of Election Commission assume costs could range from several thousand dollars, for a small local election, to approximately $1.5 million in the case of a countywide election.

Officials at the Platte County Board of Election Commission and Monroe County assume no fiscal impact to their respective organizations from this proposal.

ASSUMPTION (continued)

Officials at the following boards of election commission: Kansas City Board of Election Commission, St. Louis City Board of Election Commission, Clay County Board of Election Commission, and Jackson County Board of Election Commission not respond to Oversight's request for fiscal impact.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

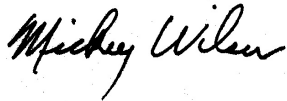

Currently, a political party nominating committee may select a party candidate for election to an office for a special election. This act removes this process and instead requires that a primary election be held for every special election at least 45 days prior to the special election. This act also requires that notice of both the primary and special elections be published with the name of the office to be filled, the dates of the primary and special elections, and the dates by which candidates must be filed for office.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
