FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials at the City of Independence assume this bill will significantly impact law enforcement. Fiscal Impact is an indirect impact of this bill. Self initiated activity is a significant part of a police officer's duties and responsibilities. Writing tickets is a part of the measurement of this duty. While there are other components of measuring self-initiated activity, this has to be included as a part of performance measures.

Officials at the City of Kansas City state it is unknown if there will be a loss of revenue. The Kansas City Police Department (KCPD) is not controlled by the City of Kansas City. It is the City's understanding that the KCPD does not use quotas for traffic tickets. If that understanding is correct there is no impact, and the extension of the prohibition on ticket quotas to full-time traffic officers would not be a change in the KCPD's practices.

Oversight assumes since writing traffic tickets would be considered an indirect fiscal impact to this proposal and not a direct fiscal impact, Oversight will assume no direct fiscal impact from this proposal.

Officials at the Office of the Attorney General (AGO) assume that any potential costs arising from this proposal can be absorbed with existing resources. The AGO may request additional appropriations if the proposal results in a significant increase in cases.

Officials at the Department of Public Safety's Missouri Highway Patrol assume no fiscal impact from this proposal.

In response to a previous version, officials at the Office of the State Courts Administrator assumed no fiscal impact from this proposal.

Officials at St. Louis County, the Cole County Sheriff's Department, the Columbia Police Department and the St. Louis County Police Department each assume no fiscal impact to their respective entities from this proposal.

In response to a previous version, officials at the Callaway County Commission assumed no fiscal impact from this proposal.
