FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Department of Public Safety - Alcohol and Tobacco Control and the Department of Transportation each assume the proposal would not fiscally impact their respective agencies.

Officials from the Department of Revenue (DOR) state this language is required to comply with federal requirements for "repeat" intoxication-related offenders under 23 U.S.C. § 164. This applies to a circumstance where state law allows a court-ordered waiver of ignition interlock device (IID) installation and use for motor vehicles which are solely owned and controlled by the offender's employer.

Federal law requires either IID installation for repeat intoxication-related offenders (two offenses within a five-year period) for limited driving privileges or license reinstatement OR a 'hard walk' or mandatory license suspension period. If an IID waiver for an employer-owned vehicle is allowed by state law, it must comply with the federal requirements and apply only in situations where the repeat offender has no ownership interest in or control over the entity that owns the vehicle.

This language was not contained in the version of §302.440 passed in the 2016 legislative session, and is required. Failure to include the language will place Missouri out of compliance with federal law for repeat intoxication-related offenders and will result in the possible loss or withholding of federal highway aid funds.

In response to a similar version, officials from the City of Kansas City each assumed the proposal would not fiscally impact their respective agencies.

In response to a similar version, officials from St. Louis County state additional revenues to the county would probably increase for each distillery license (at $450 per issued license). Therefore, St. Louis County assumes, for 2018 - 2019, an additional $1,428 in revenue. St. Louis County also assumed they would incur administrative costs of initial communication to all affected entities amounting to $250 per year.

Oversight assumes this proposal does not create an additional liquor license, which would have generated additional license fee revenue. The proposal may, however, entice new retailers to open establishments in the airport. Due to the relative small amounts estimated, Oversight will reflect a minimal amount of additional revenue to St. Louis County (and no corresponding city revenue as the airport is in unincorporated St. Louis County), Platte County and the City of
