FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials at the City of St. Louis assume the proposed legislation provides that deputies of the Sheriff's office of the City of St. Louis shall be eligible for training and licensure by the peace officer standards and training commission under chapter 590 of the MO Revised Statutes. Chapter 590 defines a peace officer as "a law enforcement officer of the state or any political subdivision of the state with the power of arrest for a violation of the criminal code or declared or deemed a to be a peace officer by state statute."

However, unlike sheriffs in other counties of the state, the sheriff in the City of St. Louis is not charged with law enforcement. "All general laws relating and applicable to the sheriffs of the several counties of this state shall apply to the same officer in the City of St. Louis, except that the sheriff of the City of St. Louis shall not enforce the general criminal laws of the state of Missouri unless such enforcement shall be incidental to the duties customarily performed by the sheriff of the City of St. Louis." (R.S. Mo. 57.450).

The primary duties of the Sheriff of the City of St. Louis involve courtroom security, prisoner transport and process serving. The proposed legislation would designate the Sheriff of the City of St. Louis and deputies as law enforcement officers and eligible for training even though their duties in the City are not typically law enforcement. A current training program for City Airport police officers for 25 weeks of training, including tuition, screenings, exams, etc. totals $4,400 per participant. The annual salary of an entry level Sheriff deputy position is $32,604, so the cost of salary and benefits (est. @ 25%) during the training period would total just under $20,000, bringing the total cost of training to approximately $24,000 per deputy. At a total of 165 uniformed deputies the total cost for the Sheriff's office would be a minimum of $4M.

Since most current staff make more than the minimum salary, actual salary costs during training would be higher. (Note: Since training would entail deputies being unavailable for regular service duty for an extended period- the salary cost of training is included as the cost of keeping vacated posts filled while training is in progress, either through additional hires, overtime or both. Costs in successive years would include the training of new deputies due to attrition, (avg. of 20 per year) estimated at $480,000 and the cost of continuing education est. @ $160 per deputy per year for an additional $23,000 ($160 x 145).

In summary, the City of St. Louis assumes the following costs for this proposal:

FY19 - Greater than $4,000,000

FY20 - $503,000

ASSUMPTION (continued)

Oversight inquired the City of St. Louis on their response. The actual training cost for 165 deputies is $726,000 ($4,400 per). Oversight is unclear when the City of St. Louis will be training the 165 deputies, but will assume it will be done gradually, and will assume approximately 20 deputies trained per year ($88,000).

Officials at the Department of Public Safety's Office of the Director assume there is no fiscal impact from this proposal.

Officials at the St. Louis City Sheriff's Department and the St. Louis City Circuit Clerk's Office did not respond to Oversight's request for fiscal impact.

Senate Amendment #1

In response to similar legislation from this year, HB 1892, officials at the Nodaway County Sheriff's Office assumed an unknown positive fiscal impact from this proposal.

Oversight assumes this legislation would generate an indirect benefit to county sheriff departments by allowing the appointment of deputies who reside in adjoining states. Therefore, Oversight will show no direct fiscal impact from this proposal.

In response to similar legislation from this year, HB 1892, officials at the Department of Public Safety's Office of the Director assumed no fiscal impact from this proposal.

In response to similar legislation from this year, HB 1892, officials at the Boone County Sheriff's Department and the Taney County Sheriff's Department each assumed no fiscal impact to their respective entities from this proposal.
