FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Public Schools and Education Employee Retirement Systems (PSRS/PEERS) assume in 2018, legislation was enacted in Section 169.560, which allows any retired teacher from the Public School Retirement System of Missouri (PSRS) to be employed in a position covered under the Public Education Employee Retirement System (PEERS) without stopping their retirement benefit. Such retired teacher may earn up to 60% of the minimum teacher's salary as set forth in Section 163.172, RSMo, ($15,000) and such retired teacher will not contribute to the PEERS or earn creditable service. The employer's contribution rate will be paid by the hiring employer. If such person is employed above these limitations, the person will not be eligible to receive their retirement allowance for any month the person is employed and such person shall contribute to the retirement system if he or she is in an eligible position.

SB 17 (2019) would change the working-after-retirement provisions for retired PSRS members who are rehired by public community colleges (members of the System) in positions that do not require certification by DESE. Retired PSRS members who return to work for public community colleges would be subject to the same provisions as those PSRS members who are rehired into positions that do require certification by DESE:

- The retirement allowance is suspended for any such member who:
 - o Works more than 550 hours per school year, and /or
 - o Earns more than 50% of the annual compensation a full-time member would earn in the same position.
 - ▶ To the extent a retired PSRS member's employment at a public community college in a position that does not require certification by DESE exceeds the thresholds noted above (and the member satisfies other statutory eligibility requirements) resulting in suspension of the member's retirement allowance, both the member and their employer are required to contribute to PSRS and the member earns a retirement allowance from PSRS for such service.
- No contributions are required to either PSRS/PEERS.

As of June 30, 2018, 821 PSRS retirees returned to work for public community colleges in positions that do not require certification by DESE, and 96 of them (12%) had earnings that exceeded 60% of the minimum teacher's salary, which would have required their PSRS benefit to be suspended if the provisions of SB 892 (2018) had been in effect. The 96 retired PSRS members potentially affected by SB 17 represent only 0.17% of the 55,930 PSRS retiree population and only 0.20% of the 48,549 PEERS active member population on behalf contributions would have been made to PEERS had this law already been in effect.

The Systems have an actuary firm, PricewaterhouseCoopers (PWC), that prepares actuarial cost statements on any proposed legislation as well as the annual actuarial valuation reports for the Systems. According to PWC, the changes to PSRS would result in fewer PSRS retirement allowance suspensions. Therefore, PWC estimates no fiscal impact to PSRS under SB 17. In addition, under the current law, PEERS experience an insignificant fiscal gain when retired PSRS members return to work in positions that do not require certification by DESE, since employers contribute to PEERS in those circumstances, but no PEERS benefits are earned. PWC expects no employer contributions to PEERS without corresponding benefit accruals for those PSRS retirees who return to work for community colleges. The number of members likely to be affected is very small, so PWC estimates the impact of SB 17 to be an insignificant fiscal loss to PEERS.

SB 17 contains an emergency clause. This emergency clause will ensure that those retirees working for community colleges will automatically revert to the previous working after retirement provision.

Officials from the Joint Committee on Public Employee Retirement (JCPER) assume SB 17 has no direct fiscal impact to the JCPER. Our review of this legislation indicates that its provisions may constitute a "substantial proposed change" in future plan benefits as defined in Section 105.660(10). It is impossible to accurately determine the fiscal impact of this legislation without an actuarial cost statement prepared in accordance with section 105.665, RSMo. Pursuant to section 105.670, an actuarial cost statement must be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, the Secretary of the Senate, and the Joint Committee on Public Employee Retirement as public information for at least five legislative days prior to final passage.

Oversight assumes this proposal exempts employees of community colleges from subsection 2 of section 169.560. This would result in fewer suspensions of PSRS retirement benefits and community colleges would not be required to contribute to the PEERS system for any PSRS retiree employed by the college.

Based on the actuarial review of the proposed changes, Oversight assumes this proposal will result in no fiscal impact to the PSRS system and an insignificant loss to the PEERS system. Oversight notes that PSRS/PEERS is not a political subdivision therefore will not reflect an impact to their organization in the fiscal note. Oversight assumes there would be an unknown savings to the community colleges as they would no longer be required to contribute to the system for certain employees.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

FISCAL DESCRIPTION

Under current law, any person retired from the Public School Retirement System of Missouri (PSRS) may be employed by an employer included in the retirement system in a position that does not normally require a Missouri teacher certification. Such a person may earn up to 60% of the statutory minimum teacher salary without a discontinuance of the person's retirement allowance.

If any such person is employed in excess of the limitations, the person shall not be eligible to receive the person's retirement allowance for any month during which the person is employed.

This act exempts any person retired and currently receiving a retirement allowance from PSRS employed by a public community college from such provisions of law.

This act has an emergency clause.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
